BOOT CAMP MOVING FORWARD

NEW Team Associated Boot Camp driver, Adam "big lad" Taylor smashes it at the 2011 Enduro Masters Saturday night "d£sh for c£sh". Big lad used a borrowed RC8.2 to take the win by 2 laps in the 30 minute final. Everybody at Team Associated and CML Racing would like to welcome Adam to the team.

Craig Drescher had this to say "none of us believed he was only 16. I did check his ID. True to his word it turns out that he is actually only 16 years old and the tallest guy now on the team. On a serious note, Adam is a very welcome addition to the Associated team and Boot Camp line-up. He's a very approachable and likable young man and will do a great job for us at the clubs he races. We look forward to seeing him grow" Hopefully not into a giant:-)

Congratulations to Adam for his first win running the 8.2 and a fantastic start to his new team. Adam's been borrowing cars for the past 3 months to decide which car he liked the best. Adam chose the RC8.2 and had this to say,

"From months of testing and playing about with friends cars it was an easy decision for me to make once the 8.2 was released and available. Not only is the car fantastic and a HUGE improvement over the older versions but the team is by far the best in the country and I know I will learn more from these guys to get the best from my racing. Thanks for the opportunity"
